

July 22, 2020

Hi Morris,

I read Outcry and am amazed at the book. The progression of your argument from the overwhelming evidence of the problem, through the conclusions of the nine scientists, to your vision of a sustainable future is most impressive.

I've never encountered a book in which the data was even nearly as up to date, and I loved the links to the wealth of online information. And no trees were killed!

Congratulations on your wonderful book. I admire your ability to become such an influential voice on this crucial matter.

Regards,

*Raymond Dominic, PhD
Professor Emeritus of History
The Ohio State University*